TopNav and Rally Flying Training Day What it's all about – the principles behind TopNav Rally Flying – how it can add a new dimension to your flying skills

Booker TA Drill Hall,
Youens House, Old Horns Lane, Booker, Marlow SL7 3DU
Saturday 18th February 2012
10.00 for 10.30 am start

Anyone who has gained a PPL has risen to the challenge of mastering a new skill in a third dimension and succeeded, so if the prospect of another bacon buttie at the airfield and a few circuits or a quick tour of the local area with family or friends doesn't hold the thrill it once did, how about some Precision Flying?

At first glance that sounds rather daunting but this Training Day is designed to dispel the myths surrounding Precision Flying. Members of the British Rally Flying Club and the Royal Institute of Navigation will talk through the principles behind flying Rally Flying in general and TopNav in particular, with the aim of encouraging members of all levels of experience to give it a go.

The format for these events is very different to that of the Dawn to Dusk or BWPA Chairwoman's Challenge so if neither of these captures your imagination but you would like to try something new then this is the seminar for you.

Coffee will be available on arrival and a sandwich lunch will be provided. It is expected the day will finish about 3.30 pm. The Drill Hall is a 5-minute walk from Booker Airfield.

Cost: members £10, guests £15, including coffee and lunch.
